MIAMI – Due to popular demand and strong ticket sales, Cavalía, the incredible equestrian odyssey, has extended its run at Miami's Bicentennial Park for an additional 7 shows. The show, which opens in Miami on January 19, will keep its tents up and horses performing through February 7, 2010.

The multi-faceted, dream-like extravaganza celebrating the eternal connection between humans and horses brings together more than 100 two and four-legged artists. The majestic, acrobatic, and enigmatic Cavalía has been touring for six years with no signs of slowing.

Normand Latourelle, founder and artistic director of Cavalía, is the visionary behind the show. Latourelle's vision inspired Cavalía's incredible sequences starring horses alongside men and women of astounding acrobatic talent, who captivate audiences in each city as the show tours.

This extension is the perfect opportunity to see the show for those who have not yet bought tickets. The Atlanta run is selling quickly, so it is recommended that customers buy tickets in advance.

TICKETS - Regular tickets are priced from $34 to $89.50. And, if just sitting in the stands is not enough for you, the show can be customized for the complete VIP experience from $99 to $199, including a Horse Lovers Package that lets patrons tour Cavalía's stables, and the Rendez-Vous Package that includes a tour of the stables, a cocktail/dinner reception and much more. Special pricing available for children, students, and seniors.

SHOWTIMES - During Cavalía's Miami run, there will be nightly shows except Mondays, matinee and evening shows on Saturdays and early shows on Sundays. For more information, a detailed list of show dates and reservations, call 1-866-999-8111 or visit Cavalía.net.
